DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in the Republic of Korea on 4/21/2000. It is noted, however, that applicant has not filed a certified copy of the Korean application as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b).

Specification

2. A substitute specification, including abstract, in proper idiomatic English and in compliance with 37 CFR 1.52(a) and (b) is required. The substitute specification filed must be accompanied by a statement that it contains no new matter. The present specification is replete with errors in English grammar and syntax. In addition, much of the language is awkward. The specification appears to be a direct translation from the foreign priority document. In addition, "undesirable" should replace "unwholesome" throughout the specification and in the title.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Kessinger et al., WO 01/55905 A1.

The present invention teaches classifying, building and maintaining dynamic lists of undesirable internet websites wherein access to these websites may be restricted, including means for manually or automatically (e.g., by web-bot) updating these lists at given control centers.

However, such was abundantly well known at the time of the invention. The Kessinger et al. system is cited as an example of just one of many systems that operated in the manner claimed. Note Figures 1 and 3, which describe how Internet access was restricted based on classification lists at a project repository.

Conclusion
